2. PhraseMix

Presidential Facts and 'Firsts'

The third Monday of February is known as Presidents' Day in the United States. For almost 100 years, America officially honored the birthday of its first president, George Washington, on February 22. That is his birthday. That date was a national holiday until 1968.
